This is a warning!
It seems we've finally met our match.
An act of inspiration that has only set us back.
And if we grab a hold,
we may find that they may never go away.
So why'd you have to go away?
The things we'll never know
and often find a way to fight for anyway.

Fight for anyway.
Yea, we'll fight for it.

It's all you know.
It's everything you've ever dreamt about,
and I'm open waiting for it.

Here I stand in the middle of the door in your hallway,
and you just stared on back as you gave it all away,
let me slip right through at the seems.
Falling down the street,
faster now I flee,
the scene has fade to nothing.

It's all you know.
It's everything you've ever dreamt about,
and I'm open waiting for it all to come crashing in on me.

And though these things may never be the same,
it all just seems to slowly fade away.
