From over the mountains
To the crimson sea
Where dragons will dare to sleep
For eternity

As sunrise brings the bitter rain
A silent whispering

The dragons rise again
Above the silver flame
Guarding our destiny
Skies stood ablaze
When the dragons where free, so free

The beautiful sunlight
Shining on their wings
Where dragons will come to dream
Riding on the winds

As nightfall drowns the burning flame
The final gathering
