The sunlight beats upon my skin
The ocean's breeze is coming in
Echoes will remind me
Of the past that I can't get behind me

Floating in this whirlpool
Confusion brings me to my knees
The sky above, a dark blue
Holding back the rain that soothes me

Chorus:
Rain fall upon me, my world is far too dry
Rain fall upon me, fall from the sky

Caught in space above me
The moonlight seeks to cover me
Nights like this disgust me
'Cause I can't get the sleep that I need

Keeping clear of this game
And the clown from which it came
Your speechless lips disown me
Wrapped into a blanket of deceit

Chorus:
Rain fall upon me, my world is far too dry
Rain fall upon me, fall from the sky

Wash out with the tide
Day in, day out
Everything the same
The footprints fade
Perhaps the only thing left to remind me
Is the force that guides me is
The salt, the light, the city I left behind
These walls are waterfalls
Beyond what the eye can perceive
Waves and caves under the sea
Some things you just can't deny
The Earth, the skies and waters collide
There's only one thing left to believe
There's just one morning star, one Earth, one sky

One body of water that retains the tides
This one time I can swallow my pride
And give you the thoughts and dreams
In the back of my mind
One last request, you can call it a cry for help
Preferably something I can throw in the air
Instead if I have to die
Let me do it with you
'Cause if we're always together
What have I got to be afraid of?

Chorus:

Rain fall upon me, my world is far too dry
Rain fall upon me, fall from the sky
Rain fall upon me, my world is far too dry
Rain fall upon me, fall from the sky
