Into the dark I see
Into the light
I want but I can't find myself

Hiding away from the real world
Scared I am
While the forest hides me

She wanders, she wanders around
Whit her hear held high

Let down, let down
By the people all around me
And I reached out for heaven's warm embrace

Let down, let down
And I wipe my own tears away
Little girl cries to heaven
Enclose me in your grace

For the safety, she needs
The warmth she wishes to feel

Face to the wall
I don't want to see
What's behind
I turn my back to it all

She wanders, she wanders around
With her head held high

Let down, let down
By the people all around me
And I reached out for heaven's warm embrace

Let down, let down
And I wipe my own tears away
Little girl cries to heaven
Enclose me in your grace
