

International Noise Conspiracy

"Will it ever be quiet"

Visit "Will it ever be quiet" on MotoLyrics.com

Album : Survival sickness (2001)

i want to thank the industrialization for the noises it gave thanks for the planes and thanks for the trains, and the factories that you've made do you remember when it was quiet down here?
i want to thank this cultural production for the sounds that it brings it makes us amplify our manifestos, and it enables me to sing
i want to thank you, my little nemesis, for everything for making my head explode and my ears to ring
do you remember when it was quiet down here?
will it ever be quiet down here? will it ever be quiet anywhere?
i want to thank the industrialization for the noises it
gave
thanks for the planes and thanks for the trains, and the
factories that you've made
i send out all of my thanks to the city that never sleeps it's spreading all over the world, new sounds every week

Visit International Noise Conspiracy page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.