Barely upright,
weighted down with stones
night after night.
To find your way back home

it's gonna take a little time,
it always takes a lot of trying,
it takes, takes, takes a state mind,
and always takes a little time.

Keep your head up,
drown your days with dreams of where you're going
and who you want to be.

It's gonna take a little time,
it always takes a lot of trying,
it takes, takes, takes a state mind,
and always takes a little time.

Just do what you've gotta do.
If it's good for me it's good for you.
Do what you've gotta do.
Just do what you've got to do.

Face the great fears,
throw them to the birds.
Your expression
screams a thousand words.

It's gonna take a little time,
it always takes a lot of trying,
it takes, takes, takes a state mind,
and always takes a little time.
