"You Fool"

You find yourself in two
You've cut yourself you fool
Now you find yourself in two, in two

You set a boot out on that spire
The ice, it filled your lungs with fire
You'd never felt so alive
And now you feel nothing inside

You find yourself in two
You've cut yourself you fool
Now you find yourself in two, in two

Her body's cold out on that hill
So swallow down another pill
Though nothing since has felt so real
Won't close the book so you can't heal

She doesn't blame your past mistakes
Yet there's not much left here to fake
You shut your eyes to see her face
Wrapped in the mountain's cold embrace
