[Lyrics by Ville Viljanen]

You have led me into this grief now it's your turn to get out of this lie so many years i have been lost in this circle of time sometimes it feels like I'm trapped in my own mind I can feel my thoughts slipping away am I going insane

I can see it there on the wall the door that leads me out who's head is this now are these my own memories

Is it the feelings that make us human so what am i now am i a man or just another empty hollow shell

I feel no pain, I feel no sorrow the time is right, the time is now the world will cry, the world will turn I am eternity's child

Once you swore to me that I have no soul you liar but somewhere deep inside me there is one black as the night

many times you have placed my sins in front of god to judge me but never been judged by you

I feel no pain, I feel no sorrow
