I was walking down the west coast line with a smile
You could see it for miles

There was a perfect tide
And the sun was rising by my side

I was approached by a man
With a sad story in his eyes
And he said
Could you please answer this for me

He said
Could please tell me where you found love, Oh cause I've been looking for some
Could please tell me where you found love, Oh
cause I've been looking for some

I was out with my best friends
We were all laughing
Talking of past things

What a perfect day
I'd spend it no other way

There was a girl
with a friend of mine
She pulled me aside and she said
Could you please answer this for me
She said
Could you please tell me where you find love, Oh
cause I've been looking for some
Could you please tell me where you find love, Oh
cause I've been looking for some

I was sitting alone
With just a piano and my phone
You sent me a message that read

It said
Could you please tell me how you still love, Oh
After all the pain that you've seen
Let me tell you I've been made

I've been cold, oh

But I let it all go in the breeze
And it's not easy
In fact, it's hard
But there's a name that you should know
It's Jesus Christ
And he's my God
And God is love

So there you are
That's where I found love, oh
So I hope you're looking for him
