Give me five minutes Iâ'm out of my head
Gotta get out of bed
Trying to pull it together

Smelly old perfume
It brings back the time
Yeah it plays with my mind
And Iâ'm trying to get over..

All this yearning
Now concerning
Yeah my whole world just keeps turning
Cause I get so wrapped up in it
And I know that I can't quit it

Girl it's twisted how you bleed me
Cause I know that you don't need me
But I find myself just saying your name

This is the way
That I feel
Now that you're here
I start to remember
That I want you again
Yeah your under my skin
You're digging in like a beautiful splinter

Trying to act normal
Like nothing is wrong
Like Iâ'm trying to move on
But I know you know better

Losin' my cool when I see you around
Yeah it's tearing me down
But to you it's whatever

All this yearning
And concerning
Yeah my whole world just keeps turning
Cause I get so wrapped up in it
And I know that I can't quit it

Girl it's twisted how you bleed me
Cause I know that you don't need me
But I find myself just saying your name

This is the way
That I feel
Now that you're here
I start to remember
That I want you again
Yeah your under my skin
You're digging in like a beautiful splinter

This is the way
That I feel
Now that you're here
I start to remember that I want you again
You're digging in
Like a beautiful splinter

Woah, woah, woah, woah..

This is the way
That I feel
Now that you're here
I start to remember that I want you again
You're digging in
