Parasite, parasite god
Parasite, parasite god

We are floating, above the mountains
Watching all the tiny people
How they waste themselves away
Obey themselves away

How willingly they lay their love
How willingly they sacrifice themselves to the locust
Master
To the one that drowned the world

They love their parasite god, yet they crucify me
They love their parasite god, yet they crucify me

Parasite, parasite god
Parasite, parasite god

How willingly they lay their love
How willingly they sacrifice themselves to the bringer
Of hunger
To the one that drowned the world

They love their parasite god, yet they crucify me
They love their parasite god, yet they crucify me
They love their parasite god, yet they crucify me
They love their parasite god, yet they crucify me

I want to be your parasite god
So I can show you what you really are
I want to be your parasite god
So I can show you who you really are
I want to be your parasite god
So I can show you what you really are
I want to be your parasite god
So I can show you who you really are
I want to be your parasite god
So I can show you what you really are

Parasite, parasite god

Parasite, parasite god

They love their parasite god, yet they crucify me
They love their parasite god, yet they crucify me
They love their parasite god, yet they crucify me
They love their parasite god, yet they crucify me
