(J. Taglieri & W. Colletti)
Lonely highway, distant destination
Trying to find my way to you
Tried it my way, filled with desperation
But now I see the right way through
We watch the changes go by so fast
And hope to God that we were meant to last
And all I need right now
And all I want right now is you
I've waited so long to tell you
You're my destiny, my fantasy
You're everything I ever dreamed you'd be
Baby, can't you see
You're my dream come true, my reality
Don't you know just what you mean to me
Baby, can't you see

Lying awake all alone in the night
Feels so close, I'm almost there/ home
I play the fools game and I hope with all my might
That I'll hold you close and you'll still care
Another town goes by and I count the ways
That I will hold like on that first day
And all I want right now
And all I need right now is you
I've wanted so long to tell you
You're my destiny, my fantasy
You're everything I ever dreamed you'd be
Baby, can't you see
You're my dream come true, my reality
Don't you know just what you mean to me
Baby, can't you see
You're my destiny, my fantasy
You're everything I ever dreamed you'd be
Baby, can't you see
You're my dream come true, my reality
Don't you know just what you mean to me
Baby, can't you see
