(J. Taglieri)

Well I couldn't believe it
All the words I said
Girl, I know that I hurt you
Things got a little too heated
We should have just gone to bed
But we couldn't let up 'till we we're through
I used to touch your soul
Now it seems that I am reaching
Why can't we just see the light
'Cause I don't want to fight with you tonight
Why must it be so hard to make it right
If we feel the things we say we feel inside
And I don't want to know who's to blame
I'm thinking this is all such a shame
When I'm feeling like my heart has died inside
Please hold me close tonight
Well, it seemed so simple
But somewhere it went wrong
Tell me what am I to do
One wrong word was spoken
One wrong look too long
Now I feel like we are through
You used to touch my soul
But now it seems you've stopped believing
Why can't you just see the light
'Cause I don't want to fight with you tonight
Why must it be so hard to make it right
If we feel the things we say we feel inside
And I don't want to know who's to blame
I'm thinking this is all such a shame
When I'm feeling like my heart has died inside
Please hold me close tonight

Whatever happened to all that we believed in Where's the love I thought I'd always have
'Cause I don't want to fight with you tonight
Why must it be so hard to make it right
If we feel the things we say we feel inside
And I don't want to know who's to blame
I'm thinking this is all such a shame
When I'm feeling like my heart has died inside

Please hold me close tonight
