(J. Taglieri)

Well I don't mean to test the things that you believe in
But I feel our love is sliding off the track
And I've got to know just what you mind is seeing
Is it coming back
So don't you make me wake here alone this morning
I don't want to face the day alone again
So if you're riding on the fence and disillusioned
At least be my friend
And I will love you 'till the end
And have a
Reason to believe
There's a heaven not a hell
Waiting there for me
I swear you'll see the
Man you always wanted me to be
And you'll have a reason to believe
There've been times when I've just been so stubborn
And there've been times when you won't cut me some slack
And it's always been such a simple problem
Our pride holds us back
And I've decided there's no me without you here
And I'm hoping that you feel the same way to
We can taste our dreams but I just can not do it
Girl without you
Won't you tell me what to do
I need a
Reason to believe
There's a heaven not a hell
Waiting there for me
I swear you'll see the
Man you always wanted me to be
And you'll have a reason to believe
That just a wish away
Is the promise of a better way to be
And you're the only way
I'll ever be the man I'm meant to be
I need a reason to believe
Reason to believe
There's a heaven not a hell

Waiting there for me
I swear you'll see the
Man you always wanted me to be
And you'll have a reason to believe
