

Jack Anthony "Slow Down"

Visit "Slow Down" on MotoLyrics.com

A friendship bracelet on my wrist another one around the neck an ice cold story with a twist of lime and crime and fatal wrecks I bet you think you know what's best I bet you're opposed I cut the brake lines loose tonight I'm still on the road So where am I in all of this? part of me is behind the wheel the other half is in the back so to speak, if not for real so roll your eyes and shake your head but no words come out search for all the words they said shout them out proud

Well I came to show you, so come on let's get to know you, cause I'm on my seventh dose now, so it's on some say to slow down, no I guess you'd have to be me to see why you'll never see me slow down

It breaks my heart to let you down you might have guessed I have the cure and as the potion's going down all my sad thoughts cease to stir I know that you don't understand perhaps there's no hope but when shit hits the ceiling fan you can't seem to cope

Visit Jack Anthony page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.