"Now I Disappear"

A call like a raid
"If I'm tied here I'll have to stay" check the rooms all I find is some lost time that I want back
"it's not my problem it's not my problem" don't tell where I am don't tell where I've been a note "it's all in my head please understand cause I'll be back" it's back to the ledge just to check how soon I can forget how far I can go back but it's not my problem it's not my problem waves get carried away never wind up that way again come back up for air breathe when you're not here first I'm unaware next make sure you're here

final call met its match catch me on the way back
