SMILE

Vs1

She prays for dusk as soon as its dawn, talks about life as though she's done its been one big bad world, she's got scars to show it, they will never go away She thinks men are the enemy and lovemaking is impossible
A life once straight has gone astray, the prodigal day the world isn't always grey please don't ask may

the world isn't always grey

chrs:

a smile covers its all , a smile makes it seem right I've seen past your smile, it will be alright 2x

Vs2

Death came knocking at my door, when I was only four its been one big bad world, I've got scars to show it, but I've got no one I cut myself—if, to see, if I still bleed, I'm numb from this life we live, I've lost the drive

the world isn't always grey
please don't ask may
the world isn't always grey

chrs:

I've seen past your smile, it will be alright
a smile covers its all , a smile makes it seem right I'll carry u till ur feet both can stand
