I can't believe they're running
But you won't make me
I smell your death from here
It's coming on your way
This time I'm gonna ensure you to understand
My blood runs in your veins and it'll destroy everything...
So stop all of your denial
I will not forgive for what you've done to those people

Now that you have to pay for all those their soul you Took,
All those their life you put
My blood runs in your veins and it'll destroy
everything...
Time for you to die, or you can slit my throat. Die!
