Do you believe in hell below?
Do you fear a God above? Soul searching on dead end streets
You can shove your fucking love
No actions without consequence
Nothing said makes any sense
Fuck what you've done
Take what you want and fucking run
Life her is war
What do you fight for?
Are you alive? What gives you good reason to survive?
Are we alive or are we all just waiting to die?
On these crowded streets I'm completely alone
Awake in flames in this disfigured city I call home
Watch time elapse
Watch the world collapse
Life her is war
What do you fight for? Are you alive?
What gives you good reason to survive?
Are we alive or all just waiting to die?
Life here is war
