Sitting while the sunset blazes into night
Reeling, my feelings are naked as the sky
I try to find a shadow to hide these worry lines
Tie myself to someone and hope dreaming will suffice

It's a heart life
When daytime lovers fall for lovers of the night
It's a heart life
When night time dwellers fall for lovers of the night

Smoke curling wind whispers a leafy lullaby
Spellbound, the fingers of the trees caress the sky
A match made in heaven, an inseparable union
Side by side for old times' sake, or because it's right?

It's a heart life
When daytime lovers fall for lovers of the night
It's a heart life
When night time dwellers fall for lovers of the night

You and me
Are a fantasy...
