"So Typical My Heart"

So typical, my heart,
and here I am again
in envy of your will
to leave me behind.
We watched the city fall -
it couldn't save our love.
The death of my trust,
eclipsed by tragedy.

No need to cut me open,
I died of a broken heart,
ashen grey and cold,
my mirror turned to stone.(3x)

So typical, my heart,
and here I am again
in envy of your will
to leave me behind.
We watched the city fall -
it couldn't save our love.
The death of my trust,
eclipsed by tragedy.

As your footsteps fade,
await the final wave.
too caught up in my game,
I watched you walk away.(2x)
Tragedy won't distract your heart.
Tragedy won't distract your heart.

No need to cut me open,
I died of a broken heart,
ashen grey and cold,
my mirror turned to stone.(3x)
