You're a leech, you're a leech, never out of my reach
Darling you're a leech...clinging to my heart.
You're a swine, you're a swine, by my side all the time
Darling you're a swine...clinging to my heart.

And you know it aint no fun, you always catch me when I run, you know my ego weighs a ton, it's still not enough to spur me on.
And you know it aint no lie, you always find me when I fly, you've got me clinging to the sky, I'm hanging on for dearest life.

You're so sly, you're so sly, with that look in your eye, twitching all the time...staring me apart.

And you know it aint no fun, you always catch me when I run, you know my ego weighs a ton, it's still not enough to spur me on.
And you know it aint no lie, you always find me when I fly, you've got me clinging to the sky, I'm hanging on
for dearest life.

Tongue tied, don't be shy, I can see you whispering
from the corner of my eye
And tongue tied, don't be shy, I can hear you screaming through the sniggers and the sighs
And tongue tied, don't be shy, you can come and find me when you think you might be ready to run...
Tell me then I'll take you on,
Let you know when I have begun,
And pat you on the back when I've won,
Finish you when I am done,
And then you'll wish you hadn't come

You're a leech, you're a leech, never out of my reach Darling you're a leech...clinging to my heart.
