

Lucky Face

"Sunk Soul Song"

Visit "Sunk Soul Song" on MotoLyrics.com

Everything is heavenly, a middle class suburban dream Where everybody's nobody & everything is inbetween and just to set the scene...
Nothing happens every day & nothing matters anyway

Kill the lights, come on, come on and when the day gets back you know we'll kill it as well some,
In the middle of a life gone wrong
In a kitchen sinker, singing the sunk soul song

Where everything is actual & nobody is left behind And life is looking back until it's far enough away to find and just to pass the time...
Nothing happens every day & nothing matters anyway

Kill the lights, come on, come on
and when the day gets back you know we'll kill it as well
some,
In the middle of a life gone wrong
In a kitchen sinker, singing the sunk soul song

I could've been somebody, been someone
I could've been somebody, anyone
And hoping that you got my letter Close your eyes and dream it better
For age is old and youth is younger But both are bound to drag you under

Visit Lucky Face page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.