The morning sun wakes you and comes at you with a smile, yes you can find days like these but you gotta walk for miles and miles and miles...and miles

But walking's not too easy when you're walking on air,
So you try walking backwards, but it never really seems to get you there
And there's a silence, but it's a silence only you can hear

Well the street's almost empty so you empty out your head, it spills onto the pavement almost everything you ever did or said

I think someone up there likes me, there's a lot down here who don't,
I used to let it bother me but now I'm quite decided that I won't
And there's a silence, but it's a silence only you can hear

It's a long time, since the last time, you deceived me with a smile and said;
Sleep in your clothes to save time in the morning
Don't leave the house if the sky looks like falling
You run for cover while I get the others
Today's just a day and tomorrow's another...
