(Anders Bagge/Jonas Jeberg/Robbie Nevil)

Oh yeah yeah

Theres a road of many questions

And I know Ive had my share, Baby

Hurt by shadows of deception

Oh yeah yeah

Locked away in my fears

I wondered why did I have to go through all the pain

Was it worth it? Was it worth it?

And I dont understand why I feel so alone in the end

In the end

I say where was love

when tears were breaking my heart

Oh, where was love

It was saving up for something, saving a place for us

Where was love?

Oh, somethings over, something begin

Its only now that I can see

Yeah yeah

In the sand were our footprints

Oh, baby

Thats when love carried me

I wondered why did the past have to hurt me so bad

Was it worth it? Was it worth it?

No, no, no

I was wondering when I could live to learn to trust again

Trust again

I say where was love

When tears were breaking my heart

Where was love

It was saving up for something, saving a place for us

Where was love?
