take me away from this give me another dose i don't know who to hit but i sure know where to go yr hero's worn and thin no chance for us to win we've all been fooled into a false identity come waste away yr last days sign away yr life today i don't need anyone to show me what we've done eyes open mind is clear and i can smell yr fear abort, retry or fail i just can't get my fill nothing left here

but my descent

evry single contribution just leaves me here wanting more 21st century prostitution feed a hunger starve a whore seemed to have worn out my wings maybe i should order me a new pair seemed to have misplaced my things looking for something that isn't there run, move along now our last days are already here come sing along now our song ov everlasting fear no auto shut off
no emergency brake time now to make my last mistake.
