urn Around

Iâ've been lying to myself again

I'm just hoping this will end soon cause Iâ've been here with my ear to the ground listening, listening for the sound of you, of you

turning around

And Iâ'm fighting with my heart again it just refuses refuses to mend maybe Iâ'm losing my mind

I thought I left it all behind but its been telling me, its been telling me to turn around

turn around, turn around

Iâ'm waiting for this bomb to drop Iâ'm waiting for my heart to stop beating out your name and rekindling this flame its been telling me

Its been a while since Iâ've seen your smile thought it would fade with every mile that time and distance would tie me down that coming home would help me come around but all I wanna do is turn around
