Yes I do care what you have to say
But I'm sure I'm having a very bad day
I'm tired of being sick and I'm sick of being...tired
Once a long time ago I caught a glimpse of you alone
I see sound
And I was so very scared
But now I've learned a new way to care
I see sound
I see sound from all around
I see sound from all around
From all around, from all around
What would you do if suddenly you turned around and everything was
No longer what you had planned and all the faces were not friends and
Everything you thought you wanted
Might be a mistake from when you started you'd Change it if you could you know you would but there is no one else to be
She climbed out on the fire escape said
What are you doing you know it's late
People told me that you were back
But I'm kinda wondering "why is that?"
Once a long time ago
I caught a glimpse of you alone
And I was so very scared
But I took the thoughts and stripped them bare Thought hey now who you loving
Saw you on the television
I see sound
I see sound from all around
I see sound from all around
From all around, from all around
I see sound
