My head is spinning from all the shit that your willing to make one of your stories I'm meant to believe, You said you came in at eleven then slept on the sofa woke up at nine to go see your grandma Thats all bullshit, I was up all night I heard the noise I heard someone screaming Then I heard your voice You said I said shut up someone will hear us i'f that happens I'll blow your brains out

Then there was a gunshot the girl wasn't screaming, then I heard footsteps then a bin lid shut down Then the following morning you went early in the morning to bury the body

Then the police came, knocked at the door asked where he was I said he's not here no more I asked why and he replied he's been convicted of murdering an innocent young women last night round ten then his assistant cop rang his radio and said I got him arrested him just there

I KNEW YOU WERE LYING
