fool number one is what I've been known to be but only for you, my love still so in love and you make believe you don't know me now I'm cryin' and I'm dyin' to know is it so every night I hope and pray maybe somehow, maybe someday
that when you come around to the lonely side of town I'll still be waiting here
I am your fool number one I've made mistakes you say you will never ever forgive if only you would, my love there'll come a time when you will be lonely too you'll be wondering
and you'll be wanting to know where did I go
and every night you'll hope and pray
that I will be waiting here
you know I'll be waiting here I am your fool number one
