pretend you're still in love with me and things are what they used to be just one last time before you go pretend that you still love me so pretend I'm still the only one and all our dreams have just begun I know our love's come to an end so one more time, let's just pretend

maybe there's a chance
that you could change your mind if you just pretend you love me
one more time

I don't want to be a memory or a friend darlin', you don't have to love me just pretend

if you just pretend you love me
one more time

just pretend

just pretend
