well I wonder if you knew where I had been
I was trying to play a game that I could win I'm lower than a beggar on his knees and you'll never see the losing side of me well I'd ask my friends about you now and then they told me that you could be back again but I'm thinking about what wasn't going to be

and you'll never see the losing side of me

the losing side of me just won't be found and I know that you've been seen running 'round but I'm crying like the birds up in the trees
and you'll never see the losing side of me

well I wonder if you knew where I had been
I was trying to play a game that I could win

'cause I know that you've been seen running 'round

'cause I know that you've been seen running 'round
no you'll never see the losing side of me
