With drippin' drops of water
The water jug is filled and
If we each gave a dollar
A dollar could feed the world
One by one, we can change
Little by little we can re-arrange the world.
We can change the world.

[Chorus]

Dear Mr. American Can you give your money Away?
Dear Mr. American go hungry for one day
Can you go hungry for just one day?

See this financial stress is such a perfect test
to see who remains the same and who's slightly less, you see, there is a place where we want to be
with our goals, our dreams, our philosophy.
Everything you need you can get it for free
'Cuz true happiness comes naturally.
And once it's planted it grows like a tree
So plant happiness inside of you and me.

We were all put here for Livin' and Love and givin.'"

It's true that these things have no true definition.
For some it's money or power or fame
but I'll tell you right now that'll drive you insane.
The best is to focus on mental clarity,
That's if you want advice directly from me.
And when you see economy affecting people's health,
You can calmly ask yourself, you say,

[Chorus]

Can you give your Money away?
Can you give your Power away?
