Dont need words in the way
Every time you feel to cry
Something I couldn't say but my time was right

I won't forget your name.

Plant the seeds and return what you found
Master of the speed of sound Lend an ear if you will hear theres something quite right happening here

Another told and I've got more to say
The river flows, colours wash away

But I won't forget your name.

Life is like a setting sun
One goes and then comes another one
If I don't see you again tonight well
You should know that I'm alright

Another told and I've got more to say
The river flows, colours wash away

But I won't forget your name.

The river flows, colours wash away.
