Death open gates to the other side
The candle of life burnt
Listen to the ring of the funeral bell
Where the torture ends
Sin that you've made by your bloody hands
Awaits no forgiveness

You cut life off from yourself
Desire for death was strong
Terrible end you have chosen yourself
Take your very last breath
You haven't realise it up to the end
That you don't live twice

Death liberation is that what you want
Death celebration is that what you need
Death liberation escape from the pain

Death celebration you lived just in vain

Flame ceased in the soul of young
Only dust and ashes left
You life was just a short flash
That blinded a dead of night
You've found the way out from the maze
Created by your own mind

Life is a mirror made of glass
Cannot withstand constant blows
Remember there'll be no better life
In the land that been promised
For those who made a mortal sin
An endless torture prepared

Death liberation is that what you, motherfucker, want !
