Cold days
hot nights - when you're freezing
On the street in the neon lights.
Cold days
hot nights -
When the wind blows in your face and memory bites.

I was young back in sixty-nine
And life was simple like a nursery rhyme.
I could never guess what lay ahead

You didn't hear what the folks all said.
You can dream till it drives you mad

Fall in love with what you never had.
Then you got it
so good for you

Don't you see what you're coming to! you're coming to.
Cold days
hot nights - when you're freezing . . .

Cold days
hot nights - when you're tryin'
To beat the world and losing the fight.
Cold days
hot nights -
it's a little too late to put it all right.

I survive
I keep on my feet

Don't hide my face away from folks I meet.
But as the years go by I stay the same

I oughta change around and play the game.
Where's your heart
can you find your soul?
What's your target and your final goal?
Is there something you look forward to?
Or do you let your days roll over you roll over you?

Cold days
hot nights - when you're freezing . . .
Cold days
hot nights - when you're tryin' . . .
Cold days
hot nights - cold days
hot nights.
