I search for more
I want to flee break through the walls of hypocrisy I bow my head crawl on my knees so shy of them they're oppressing me they cut my roots repress their sins seductive lightness I bow my head crawl on my knees so shy of them following man -
as last resort following man -

as last resort following man -
as last resort following man - as last resort as last resort
I bow my head crawl on my knees so shy of them
as last resort following man -
as last resort following man - as last resort
