Waiting for a time to prey hoping you would speak today
I had hoped you would run away
now your head is on display
My eyes have turned a shade of gray

You are a prisoner of mine
I'm free to commit the crime
One by one your pieces fall away
Now I know you love to hate

CHORUS:

I'll bury you
with a sharp tongued truth
So the blind can see
Your world belongs to me

Waiting for a sing to pray
Hoping you would wake today
I had hoped you would run away
My eyes will give it all away

(CHORUS)

I am the one that you want to be
I am the one you will try to free
I am the one you will constantly fear
I am the one who will make you tear
I follow you when the siren sings
Now I'm the one who pulls the strings

(CHORUS)
