Seeing your soul on that butterfly day,
I saw myself with other eyes all those beautiful shades of grey grew into colorful lies the mirror man grew and said things that he knew-he'd discovered them scant minutes before but when the lights went out and he said goodnight, I knew I'd cheated you

I'm so sorry that you misunderstood me
I'm so sorry that it didn't connect
I'm so sorry that you thought I was someone else
I just didn't mean it quite that way that way just yet

I haven't seen your face for ages now, I'd forgotten how you made me feel it was a real tight fit, but my fuses re-lit and now you're stuck on my mind for real a summertime hero is a wintertime clown and knowledge is the odd man out you've gotta hang on to the trip you're on I still wish I was a part of yours

I'm so sorry.....etc beautiful sister (x4)

I'm so sorry that you misunderstood me
I'm so sorry that it didn't connect
I'm so sorry that you thought I was someone else
I just didn't mean it quite that way,
guess I had a crush on myself that day
