Cold, invisible, brutal invasion
Burn the glass surface of eyes,
Dissolved across the structure of brain,
Tentacles of control wind round the mind

Mental influence protects your feelings,
Implanting the display of happiness,
Through the obstacle of psycho-defense,
And mixed with the cells of consciousness,
Annihilate individual traits
Defeated, deranged
Distort your perceptions of space

And destruct your fear of death
Penetrate and defeat

Love, what verges on lunacy
Birth, what verges on agony
Thoughts, what verge on suicide, -
All of you run to deadlock

Cold, invisible, brutal invasion
Burn the glass surface of eyes,
Dissolved across the structure of brain,
Tentacles of control wind round the mind
