I will shine if you give me a chance
I can act, sing and dance
I will be whatever you want me to be
If you only let me...

All the dust makes the void go away
Merely a small price to pay
Under lights it is so much more real
Than the way it sometimes feels

It's so quiet when everyone's gone home
And you're left there on your own
And the world is too vague to fully grasp
So gorgeous, but out of focus

So kick my ass if I burn in my dreams
Put me back in my place
But I bet that when it's all said and done
You can still recall my face

When everyone's gone home
And you're left there on your own
And the world is too vague to fully grasp
So gorgeous...

It's so quiet when everyone's gone home
And you're left there on your own
And the world is too vague to fully grasp
So gorgeous, but out of focus
Enormous and so gorgeous
