Liar

You take your hand from me

I'll tear it from your wrist

Just take your hand from me

Liar

Your mouth is ashes dog, do not presume

To fool me with your tales of god

Liar

Promises of Heaven now

You cannot truly think you are the seven now

Liar

And I will challenge you

All my life I swear that I will challenge you

I will be the wathcer, and I will never sleep

Many miles before me, and promises to keep

Driving out the demons, and bring them all to trial

I see the face that cannot smile

Liar

You should be burning now, I know you are

The face and it is turning now

Liar

Your words are filth and false

You are the vile partner in the final waltz

Liar

I will be rid of you, a good day in my life

I will be rid of you

Liar

I see your eyeless smile

There is no other thing upon this world so vile

I will be the hero, and I can do no more

I can be the hero, as I have been before

I can take you places, that you have never seen

I can make you pleased that you are clean

Killer

Do not presume I'm fooled

You kill the hearted many but I'll break your rules

Killer

Don't show your teeth to me

I'll pull your teeth and feed you with them, count on me

Killer
I am thy killer too
I am the frightful thing that always follows you

Liar
I am thy Nemesis
I always knew one day that it would come to this

Why the world is wicked
I know the reason now
Why the world is wicked
I know that it's allowed
I can never leave it the way it was before
I can never disobey - the law
