Hold your breath, 'cause you've taken mine away
You can give it back on another day
Have you noticed two plus two doesn't equal four always?
So count me in, you can count me in,
As you breathe it in, you can count on me

Just give me the world and I will give it back to you
Just tell me it hurts and I will fix it for you
Just give me the world, and I will

I can read your mind like a blank stare
And your heart is a vault in the open air
When you get what you want, do you know you can be so sure?
'Cause one way that we can find out,
There's one way that we can know how

Just give me the world and I will give it back to you
Just tell me it hurts and I will fix it for you
Just give me the world and I will give it back to you
(I'll give it back to you)
So tell me your world, got time to

And distance won't keep me away
This distance won't keep me away from you
Won't keep me away from you

Just give me the world and I will give it back to you
And tell me it hurts and I will fix it for you
Just give me the world and I will give it back to you
(I'll give it back to you)
So tell me your world, got time to

And distance won't keep me away
This distance won't keep me away from you
Won't keep me away from you
