"Imagination"

Simply put I like all the simple things
But I get caught up in my imagination
It's a big world where I can do anything
Be anyone without any hesitation

The streets are broke in the daylight
The Eiffel Tower in the evening
Now I notice this world isn't all mine

I look out to See you
Hear you
Know you
With you
Just you

Yes you
See you
Hear you
Could I fly away now?
Here we go

Take me far away
Here with you I'll stay
Do they really need us back in the real world?

Just for one more day
Take me far away
Would they really miss us back in the real world?

So take your time working your way around
Get used to familiar surroundings
I'm not used to reading between the lines
When you want me to

See you
Hear you
Know you
With you
Just you

Yes you
See you
Hear you
Could I fly away with you?
Yeah

Take me far away
Here with you I'll stay
Do they really need us back in the real world?

Just for one more day
Take me far away
Would they really miss us back in the real world?

Have we forgotten
What you were made for?
As you were dreaming
I watched you come alive
Have I forgotten
What I was made for?

Imagination is here to come alive
Yeah
So come alive [x3]

Take me far away
Here with you I'll stay
Do they really need us back in the real world?

Just for one more day
Take me far away
Would they really miss us back in the real world?
