

New Empire

"Train On Time"

Visit "Train On Time" on MotoLyrics.com

Found yourself lost at the station
Running away from the ones that had found you,
As you longed for change
I don't know where you are
Suitcase in your hand
But do you understand

When your heart says run away, run away
And your head says go 'cause they're coming after you
Like a train on time, I can't bring you back

To the place where he found you,
Lost and secure in those things that were fled to,
As you packed for two
With that black dress and those white shoes
You just have to know, that I can't let you go

When your heart says run away, run away
And your head says go 'cause they're coming after you
Like a train on time, I can't bring you back
When your heart says stay away, stay away
And your head won't show when you really have to choose
There's a train on time, I can't break you

Lost yourself for a little while
If I ask you to stay, will you ask me to leave?

When your heart says run away, run away
And your head says go 'cause they're coming after you
Like a train on time, I can't break you

When your heart says run away, run away
And your head says go 'cause they're coming after you
It could take some time
But I can't bring you back, yeah
Love can't bring you back, yeah

Visit New Empire page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.

---

