I hope that you don't mind the silence in between my lines im just contemplating the beautiful place my life has taken me to parden me while i say i have only a few moments left to remember pardon me while i say something followed me home last night did you fill the emptiness while you were trying to sleep? and i warned my chase and i warned my press to survive

of my all-eyed chase and my all-eyed press to supply that this cant be the place you will stay silence
silence i say
this cant be the place you will stay

as you sit out by the water and stare at the sea
does it feel like something's staring back at you?

and you,
can you just sit here? can you stay here for a while? cause this is way too much for me.

can you just sit here? can you stay here for a while? cause im folding

protect me now
cause im folding
God im folding
to

weak
tunes
