"Dreams And Prophecies"

Slaves from birthon through death, one enters another world,
through the womb of imagination.

Searching through your depression for the meaning of life
no one you can trust reality faces of deception forgotten left alone to stand against what fear you seek enter the bounds with no escape condemn to a world of misery.

Blind within
Seek the truth
Realitys dreams
False prophecies.

All your worries
Stress of mix emotions
Can't think straight Blends your worst fear
