i don't know nothing, i don't know a thing but if i just keep on listening, together we'll sing i've been walking for about a thousand years and my feet are tired of crying all those painful tears and my sight is going blind and my soul is way down low but i haven't seen a thing, so that's all i can know i said cause i don't know nothing, i don't know a thing but if i just keep on listening, together we'll sing i've been drinking to drown away my tears and i'm sick of all the violence and i'm sick of all the fears but i'm moving down the road, true i'm moving kind of slow but i haven't heard a thing, so that's all i can know said cause i don't know nothing, ya'll don't know a thing

but if we just keep on listening, together we'll sing

i don't think that it's going that good today i can't take my eyes off of the rain and everybody's running away well i don't think that it's going that good today can't take my eyes off of the rain and everybody's running away
i ran away to the top of the world today i've been crying and losing lots of sleep cause the roads are getting longer winter snows come kinda deep but i still will move along and i still can feel the sun and i see or hear a thing and i'll break into a run

thing
but if we just keep on listening, together we'll sing

i can't take my eyes off of the rain and everybody's going insane
well i don't think that it's going that good today
i can't take my eyes off of the rain everybody's running away
i ran away to the top of the world today
ran away top of the world today
