Pack your suitcase, let's get on to a plane that will take us off this endless highway
I told you, we'd get there someday
From a dream
we've crossed mud and frights increased our will to fight
But we'd be all right Yeah , thank God we tried

Looking back in my memories
I see you and me
The first time we got into all this decided to get through the storm to the other side to face a pretty sun
We've tried, cried
But we did it all,
Dry those tears
and shout out loud
We made it on our own!

Now it's easy to point out mistakes a place to trace the line
But we paid the price nobody gave us a ride
When the way doesn't seem so clear
It is so rare to find a true friend
Or even a helping hand

We stared into destiny made our bets to see the people we were to be In a world where people care too much about each other's lives that never seems to help
We've tried, cried
But we did it all,
Dry those tears
and shout out loud
We made it on our own!

solo

Remember we dared and stared at fate when our dreams seemed unreachable with all the weight of the world upon our shoulders

Looking back in my memories
I see you and me
The first time we got into all this
And decided to get through the storm
We've tried, cried
But we did it all,
We made it on our own!
