it still feels like embracing the emptiness wasting emotions in a moment that is eternity when time stands still, you speed up the sand but when you drown you deny my helping hands sometimes you curse the rules of our game sometimes you kill your emotions for shame this time it hurts, thank ya for killing me again teasing means discourage so kill me again

when I drown in my sorrow again, you sheep away those sails of pain it is just a complicated game there my fires burns so bright your heartless act it takes my sight make this an end!

I cant stand to dwell alone but when you are here I wish you were gone I don't know where to run I don't know false from true when even time dares not to betray how can you?
